

ABSTRACTS

УДК 341:347.633 М. Mikuliak

REGULATION OF INTERNATIONAL ADOPTION ON THE BASIS OF CONVENTIONS ON THE RIGHTS OF CHILDREN AND ADOPTION

Article is devoted to the notion of international adoption and also the main international legal acts regulate this concept. The article also stipulates the original concept of «adoption». Indicated these regulations are interrelated and interact with each other. On the basis of listing out acts allowed to be adjusted accordingly to the laws of the participating countries and the salient issues that underpin the implementation of legislation of international adoption. An important aspect is the fact that the relevant Conventions norms that do not correspond to the national legislation. In connection with this, participating countries retain the right to accept or not a particular or according norm. An example of this is the point talking about persons which are not registered marriage, and live on the basis of the Institute «registered partnership».